

Andy Cohen To Phillies

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies completed their 1960 coaching staff with the signing of Andy Cohen, former New York Giants' infielder and manager of Denver in the American Association in 1958.

Cohen, 55, of El Paso, Tex., will be in charge of Phillies' infielders and will coach at one of the baselines. The team's other coaches are Dick Carter and Ken Silvestri.

Cohen, who had been active in some capacity in baseball from 1925 to 1958, with the exception of World War II service, was in business last season. His Denver team of 1958 reached the playoffs.

A graduate of Alabama University, where he was a three-sport athlete, Cohen made his major league debut with the Giants under John McGraw in 1926 as a second baseman.
