Cardwell Has No-Hitter in Cub Bow

Ex-Phil Notches 4-0 Win After Cards Take 1st

Special to The Inquirer
CHICAGO, May 15.—Donald Eugene Cardwell, a lanky Carlinian still learning the names of his new Cub teammates, pitched his way into baseball's record books—winning his first game as a Cub.

The season's largest crowd ever watched Cardwell throw 10 innings in the first game of a doubleheader at the stadium. On the last of these, Joe Cunningham landed a sinking drive to left field, and Wal Myers scored in, made a misplayed throw, and then never broke stride while racing toward home. There, Harry Gray, the widest infielder in the game, caught the ball and threw it to first base.

Cardwell, who was acquired from the Philadelphia Phillies for a pair of players, was making his first start as a Cub when he blanked the Cards, 4-0.

MILWAUKEE, May 15 (UPI)—Home run power gave the Milwaukee Braves and the Pittsburgh Pirates a split in their first game of the season.

The Braves won the first game, 4-3, when Hank Aaron slugged a three-run homer to lead Milwaukee. The Pirates won the second game, 4-2, when Bill Mazeroski hit a home run in the ninth inning.

The Braves and Pirates each homered three times in the first game, but the Pirates hit more home runs in the second game.

The Braves' lead pitcher, Niekirk, pitched a complete game, allowing only two runs and striking out seven.

Phils Rout Reds On 4 HRs, 14-3, But Lose 2d, 5-1

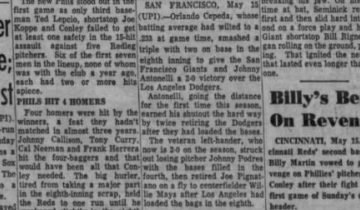

By ALLEN LEWIS
Inquirer Reporter
CINCINNATI, May 15.—The Phillies scored a doubleheader win over the Cincinnati Reds Sunday, but an eighth-inning free-for-all among the players in the opener was more evenly matched than either game.

The Phils rolled up their greatest number of hits and runs in the first game, 14-3, behind the steady pitching of big Gene Conley. They couldn't continue their slugging tactics in the nightcap, however, and were beaten, 5-1, before 17,866 at Crosley Field.

The new Phils stood out in the first game as only third baseman Ted Lepore, shortstop Joe Judge and center fielder Dick Carpenter failed to get at least one hit in the 14th inning. The four batters and their teammates slugged their way to a 14-3 victory.

The second game was played under protest by manager Al Lopez, of the White Sox, because Pete Whisenand, whose trade to the Washington Senators was announced at 4 P. M., appeared as a pinch-hitter in the seventh inning. He was scratched from the first two innings.
