

Miners Face Tech In Road Opener; Milner to Start

By MIKE PEMBERTON

A three game road series with Texas Tech tomorrow and Saturday is on tap for Coach Andy Cohen's U.T. El Paso Miner baseball team, but which day will catch the doubleheader is yet to be decided depending on a track meet.

The Miners and Cohen today went to where they will encounter the always tough Southwest Conference Red Raiders.

Cohen said before he left, "I don't know how the games will be scheduled or who my second and third starters will be. That will depend on how the games are scheduled."

COHEN DID say that no matter who gets the nod in the latter two outings Harry Milner will start the opener and the other two lefthanders, Marc Bombard and Jim Gegerson, will see action.

"Pitching will still be the key to our game when we meet Tech," Cohen said, "and we have been getting good pitching but it hasn't come around to fullest potential yet."

Cohen plans no major shake-ups in his lineup and will have Johnny Miller at first, Juan Sandoval at second, Rick Butler at short, Jim Mahlberg at third Al Kimble, Bob Pokowitz, and Harper in the outfield and Tim Pedin catching.

IN THE HITTING department Cohen praised the bat of Kimble who has been getting two or three hits a game. "Kimbell has really helped us," he said, "I only hope he can keep it going."

On the Tech side of the field Cohen said he didn't know what to really expect except that the Red Raiders would be tough. "We might face a fine pitcher I was after from Oklahoma," he said.

In the fall practice they held Tech had 60 to 70 boys show up for the workouts and they always get top material.
