

Early Lead Doesn't Hold For Miners

LUBBOCK — "Tighten up the infield and don't let anything through" was the strategy coach Andy Cohen and U.T. El Paso Miner baseball team used today as they met Texas Tech in a double header.

The Miners dropped an opener to the Red Raiders 4-3 yesterday after losing a 3-0 lead late in the game.

Harry Milner, who started for the Miners, held Tech scoreless for 6 2-3 innings before getting himself into trouble. He was relieved by Ernie Carreon, who was charged with the loss after an infield error made possible the tying run.

THE RED RAIDERS came back in the eighth to add the winning run. The Miners tried a comeback in the ninth, but couldn't plate a run.

Scoring for the Miners came in the first and third innings. Milner got on with a double and was driven in by Sandoval.

In the third Sandoval and Johnny Miller both had singles and scored on a blast by Bob Popokowitz.

Marc Bombard and Jim Greggerson were slated to get the starting nods in today's double outing.
