

Minermen Find It's Ill Wind

By MIKE PEMBERTON

A little gust of wind may have kept Andy Cohen's U.T. Miners from beating the University of Arizona Wildcats in the opening game of the Western Athletic Conference series at Dudley Field.

Slugging Tim Peden, Miner catcher, was up to bat in the ninth inning and there were two men on base. He hit what looked like a homer. A sudden breeze, however, blowing from the East, held the ball up and Keith Rhodes of Arizona caught the ball up against the left field fence.

"IF THAT wind hadn't been blowing straight in, the ball would have gone out," said Cohen.

The Wildcats won 5-3. The teams played a doubleheader at Dudley Field today.

The Cats, out-hitting the Miners 13-8, got a route job from Leon Hooten. It gave him a 7-2 season's record. Marc Bombard also went the route for the Miners. The Cats scored two tainted runs off him in the second.
