Miners Won't Be Taken So Lightly

Andy Cohen's U.T. El Paso Miner baseball team gets the tough ones first.

Cohen, whose team met University of Arizona last week in the Western Athletic Opener, will meet Arizona State University this week in Tempe.

BUT AFTER last week's narrow escape by the Wildcats, the Miners weren't taken so lightly by the Sun Devils, even in their own den.

Cohen will go with Jim

Greggerson in the opener tomorrow at Tempe. Greggerson was the only pitcher to get out of the Arizona series with a win. Greggerson is leading the Miner pitching staff in wins with five against only one loss. He is carrying an earned run average of 2.43.

In the second game the sun Devils will see another lefty Marc Bombard. Bombard is 5-3 in the won-loss column with a 3.30 ERA. Milner will do duty in the third game. Milner is 6-3 for the year and has an ERA of 1.80.

LEADING the Miners at the bat is Bob Propokowicz, hitting at a .460 clip. In the home run department Rick Butler is top man with four. Both he and Propokowicz have the RBI lead.

In a double header against New Mexico State Tuesday the Miners collected two wins 12-3 and 12-2.

Both pitchers collected homers to add to their wins on the mound. Bombard, who won the opener, hit one in the third and Milner, the winner in the second, hit his in the fifth with one on.
