Against Miners—

Wildcats May Be Revengeful

Andy Cohen takes his U.T. El Paso Miner baseball team to Arizona tomorrow for a three game series.

He will probably face a "revengeful" Wildcat team in the series.

NOT ONLY will the Arizona team be hot under the collar from the loss they were issued by the Miners during their stay in El Paso when the two met before, but they are coming off a three game sweep by New Mexico last week.

Cohen will undoubtedly go with his lefthanders again in the series. Marc Bombard should get the call in the opener with Jim Greggerson and Harry Milner doing duty in the doubleheader Saturday.

Greggerson was the only Miner pitcher to win against the Cats in the El Paso series. Greggerson's record is now 5-2.

BOMBARD is coming off a masterful job on the Arizona State Sun Devils. He hurled what Cohen called the finest game of his career handcuffing the Devils 11-1.

The Miners will face Wildcat ace Leon Hooten in the opener with Mickey O'Hara and Larry Dierks working the twin bill.

Bob Propokowicz still leads the Miners in hitting with a .454 average. Rick Butler is next in line at .352.
