

Face ASU—

Minermen After 6th Straight

If the University of Texas at El Paso Miner baseball team had to pick a lucky number they might choose six.

That's the next number in successive wins coach Andy Cohen will have his Miners going for when they meet defending national champion Arizona State University tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the opener of their three game series at Blackie Chesher Field.

COHEN'S TEAM is resting on a five game streak with three of those being a Western Athletic Conference (WAC) sweep over the New Mexico Lobos last week. They then picked up two more against New Mexico State Tuesday in a non-conference stint.

The series with ASU was moved to the Ysleta Cutoff Field because of difficulties with the Sun Kings. Cohen said, "Sun King officials claimed we were killing the grass and I didn't want any problems so I spent most of yesterday trying to find a place to play."

The field is located just a few blocks off Interstate-10. To get there take the Freeway to the Ysleta cutoff and go down three blocks to the field. All three games are slated for the Cutoff Field.

COHEN PLANS to go with his lefties against ASU. Marc Bombard will get the nod in the opener, with Harry Milner and Jim Greggerson doing the twin-bill chores Saturday.

The only lineup change is minor. Al Kimball, Cohen's rightfielder, rejoins the team after the spring football practice. "Other than that everything is fine and we are ready to go," he said.

ASU freshman Mike Hanson will get the start for the Sun Devils.

Hanson leads the team in ERA with a 0.86 average and a 5-0 record. But for the Saturday games Sun Devil coach Bobby Winkles is uncertain as to the starters.

Lenny Randle leads the Sun Devils in batting with a .329 mark. He is followed by Roger Schmuck at .324 and Gary Atiwell at .323.
