War Funds Cut Proposal Termed 'Tragic Blunder'

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew charged today that a Senate proposal to cut off funds for the Vietnam war is a "tragic blunder" that would bring "chaos" and ruin chances for peace in Southeast Asia for the rest of the century.

Agnew, who characterized his charges as "among the strongest since I took office as Vice President," was interrupted by applause 10 times during his half-hour address before the National Convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Miami Beach.

AGNEW LEVELED his attack at a so-called end-the-war proposal sponsored by Sens. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., and George S. McGovern, D-S.C. It is an amendment to the long-pending military procurement bill now being debated in the Senate.

A vote on the amendment isn't likely until late August or early September, since the Senate is currently involved in a debate on moves to limit antiballistic missile deployment, also proposed as an amendment to the bill.

The McGovern-Hatfield amendment would shut off financing of Southeast Asia operations by the end of this year and pull out all troops by mid-1971.

THE VICE PRESIDENT said the Hatfield-McGovern amendment, if passed by Congress, was a threat "to everything our servicemen have fought to accomplish in Southeast Asia."

"Hatfield-McGovern," Agnew said, "is a blueprint for the first defeat in the history of the United States — and for chaos and Communism for the future of South Vietnam . . . If adopted by the Senate and passed by the House, this publicized 'amendment to end the war' in Vietnam will go down in history as the amendment that lost the war in Vietnam and destroyed the chances for freedom and peace in Southeast Asia for the balance of the century.

"Nothing less is at stake."

AGNEW SAID he did not intend to challenge the patriotism of the backers of the amendment but did question their wisdom, judgment and logic.

"They are norribly wrong," he declared, "and if their grave error is enacted into law, generations of Asians and Americans will suffer for their tragic blunder."

Agnew said these would be among the results flowing from a law to cut off funding of the war and to require complete withdrawal of all American troops by next June 30:

—THE PARIS Peace Talks would be dealt "a lethal blow," with overnight disappearance of any incentive for the Communists to negotiate a settlement.

—The entire burden of the war would fall completely on South Vietnam, that Saigon would be unable to handle it, and that the consequence would be "collapse of the government, chaos in the country" and Communist takeover.

Agnew cited a study by the Rand Corporation, as made public by the Pentagon, indicating that if Communism prevailed in South Vietnam, "100,000 Vietnamese who placed their faith in us will die for that error of judgment."

HE SAID THE Hatfield-McGovern amendment would provide transport and refuge for those civilians who feared for their lives, indicating that the senators "have considered that the collapse of South Vietnam will indeed be one consequence of their amendment."

"But have they considered the consequences of that collapse?" Agnew asked, then added:

"One wonders if they really give a damn."

Urging the 35,000 VFW convention delegates to work for defeat of the amendment, Agnew said President Nixon intends to "see this war through to an honorable end that will do justice to the sacrifices of all our sons."

HE SAID NIXON has turned over the war to the South Vietnamese as rapidly as they were able to shoulder the burden and that to move faster would "risk the lives of our men and invite a victory for Communism that tens of thousands of our lads died to prevent."

"And no matter what the McGoerns and Hatfields propose — the President is not going to take those risks with the lives of American men."

Agnew was being given the VFW's Americanism reward on his appearance as the highlight of a meeting drawing 35,000 VFW members.

Also today, astronaut Neil A. Armstrong, the first man to walk on the moon, was awarded the VFW space award and tonight Kansas City, Mo., police chief Clarence M. Kelley will be honored with the VFW J. Edgar Hoover gold medal.

The convention officially opened today, but the fireworks actually began in preliminary committee meetings over the weekend. Among other things, the organization's Board of Governors voted to withdraw the 1971 convention from New York City because of statements on the war in Southeast Asia attributed to Mayor John V. Lindsay.

Beautify E.P. Night Planned

"Beautify El Paso Assn. Night" will be celebrated at Dudley Field Wednesday night when the El Paso Sun Kings meet San Antonio. All persons attending the game will be admitted at half price if they bring a bag containing litter, cans or similar items.

Andy Cohen, president of the Beautify El Paso Assn., urges all to attend in the two-fold objective of seeing a ball game at half price and to help pick up trash and litter in El Paso.

"WE ARE HOPING for a large turn out and really appreciate the help of the Sun Kings in our continuing efforts to beautify our great city," said the former major leaguer. "We are also thankful to the City and especially to Gil Saucedo of the Sanitation Department who will have containers available to pick up the trash."

Cohen asked that anyone who has broken furniture or used clothing should bring that as well. Any such items that can be rehabilitated will be given to Goodwill Industries. Bob Morris, general manager of the Sun Kings, is assisting in the project.

Warner Brothers, Inc., which allegedly has copyright privileges on "Ain't She Sweet," although the song was written in 1927, and Mills Music Inc., which allegedly has copyright privileges on "Red Roses For A Blue Lady," filed the suit and are seeking a minimum of $250 for each song allegedly played without payment of royalties in addition to attorney and court costs.
